Akron Steep Bank Repair - After

A Mentor homeowner purchased a house in foreclosure and the bank was concerned that the erosion from the nearby creek would be a problem for allowing another loan on the home. Together with the homeowner, we convinced the bank the repair would stabilize the slope and eliminate concerns with slope failure while protecting existing trees on the property and slope.

An Akron homeowner was interested in selling their home, but a bad slide in their backyard was an eyesore and concerning for new potential buyers. We were able to repair the slope and let it blend naturally into the woody ravine.

Both projects were a tremendous success and the CRV™ Vegetated Soxx are no longer visible due to the growth. Containment, Reinforcement and Vegetation is the key to working with nature to provide resilient, sustainable cost effective options for all types of projects.
